

First Diploma in Performing Arts: Music (Level 2)

This course provides a varied programme of performing, music theory and music technology for you to enjoy. If you want to get into music technology, whether it is playing, programming, recording or learning about the industry, then you are at the right place. BSix has a dedicated recording studio, practice rooms, two Mac computer suites running Reason and Logic software, instruments and established industry links. You will gain practical skills and vital experience, as well as obtaining relevant qualifications, but above all else you will enjoy the course. It provides you with the opportunity to turn ideas and dreams into reality.
