LOUIS HOWELL

Volunteer with 100 Black Men of London and Director of social enterprises Revolution Hive and 7PK.

WHAT'S THE MATTER?:

COMBINING BLACK BRITISH HISTORY WITH PRACTICAL LEADERSHIP TO ENGAGE AND MOTIVATE STUDENTS.

DATE: 19TH OCTOBER

TIME: 12:40PM

LOCATION: THEATRE AND ONLINE ON TEAMS

LOUIS HOWELL is known for using his incredible energy and solution-focused approach when delivering training, creating & developing programmes and hosting or speaking at events. "My experience of working in Youth and Community, dating back 12 years, has seen me design, deliver and facilitate programmes in the education, small business and charity sectors. Central to all of this is the belief that "drawing on the skills and resources that we hold individually, will make for greater impact if utilized collectively."

SOLOMON SMITH – BRIXTON SOUP KITCHEN

Solomon started giving food to the homeless at the age of 12. On his way home from school each day he noticed that there were a number of rough sleepers in his area.

Whilst on a University placement, Solomon did a placement at a homeless shelter in Lewisham.

What was supposed to be a 3 month placement, turned out to be a 7 year journey.

This inspired him to set up his very own soup kitchen.

NANA MARFO

Nana, also known as MR UNIQUE VOICE, works as an Employment and Support Officer with Croydon Council and has devoted his life to breaking the glass ceiling on disabled people in the workplace.

This truly extraordinary role model has helped many disabled employees get the reasonable adjustments they need to gain employment or stay in work.

He received almost 200 endorsements, many saying how he helped inspire them to find jobs and realise their life is not over.
